TAIPEI (XFN-ASIA) - Taiwan's state-run CPC Corp said it and Australia's Woodside Petroleum Ltd will announce more details on Friday about their liquefied natural gas (LNG) supply deal.

The Australian firm announced a deal last November to supply LNG to the Taiwanese firm from its Browse Basin project in northwest Australia.

Woodside had said that the agreement allows for potential sale of 2-3 mln tonnes a year of LNG from the Browse project for a period of 15 to 20 years, starting between 2013 and 2015.

Taiwan's Economic Daily News reported earlier this week that the two firms will ink a 20-year natural gas contract worth nearly 50 bln aud this week.
