

A fair dinkum citizen

Several months ago Mr Carpenter, you were on the ABC talking about the rock art at the Burrup, among other issues.

I rang and asked a very legitimate question. Although you were told that I was from Carnarvon, you heard my accent and dismissed my legitimate question with a "not the business of people who don't live here" answer.

Sir, I have been a resident of Australia for nearly 8 years, and a citizen for more than 2 of those years, and I was highly offended by your reply, which amounted to a brush off. Since then I have watched you very closely, with my first State election as a citizen in mind. I have actively participated in the election process from almost the first day I arrived in Australia, as a resident first of Port Hedland and then of Carnarvon, and I do not like what I have seen since you became the Premier.

You are arrogant, you have little regard for the "little people" who struggle to make a crust, and you don't seem to give a damn about anyone who lives out side of Perth.

Your choices for Minsters illustrate this very well.

I am not normally a supporter of the Liberal Party at any level, but I would rather see Mr Barnett in your office than to see you retain it for one day longer than necessary.

After watching the debate I am even more convinced you called this election because there is something you wish to hide from the voters until it is too late.

To that end I will be working the polls, phone, door to door, via my radio program, and any other legitimate means to convince other voters in this state to send you packing. I know of many others who would normally support a retention of Labor who feel exactly as I do.
